Introduction

- 1. These instructions take effect from 6 April 2011.
- 2. This guidance is not exhaustive, nor is it a definitive statement of the law. The relevant legislation is the Sea Fishing (Penalty Notices) (England) Order 2011 SI 2011 No 758<sup>1</sup>.
- 3. Your local inshore fisheries and conservation authority (IFCA) office (see Appendix 1) will be able to provide further advice.
- 4. Similar schemes are operated by the Marine Management Organisation in England and the fisheries administrations in Northern Ireland, Wales and Scotland.

At a glance

- 5. The financial administrative penalties system has been designed to complement the existing enforcement system rather than replace it. You may be offered a penalty<sup>2</sup> as an alternative to criminal prosecution in certain circumstances. A penalty will only be offered where there is reason to believe that a person has committed an offence for which an administrative penalty may be issued ("penalty offence", see Appendix 2 for a list of relevant penalty offences).
- 6. This scheme applies to penalty offences committed in relation to sea fishing (as listed in the Schedule to the Order) in England, and by English and Welsh fishing vessels wherever they operate (Wales and the Welsh Zone excepted) or by other fishing vessels within English waters of British fishery limits. In accordance with the regulations, and where appropriate, the master, owner, charterer, representative, operator and/or legally liable person may be issued with a penalty notice.
- 7. In the event of a penalty offence being detected and an administrative penalty being offered, payment of the penalty within 28 days will discharge your liability to be prosecuted for the offence. However you will be under no obligation to accept and pay the penalty if you wish to have the matter dealt with via court proceedings. Non-payment of the penalty will not constitute an offence in itself.
- 8. Administrative penalties will not be offered for:
- obstruction, failure to comply with requirements made by inshore fisheries and conservation officers (IFCOs<sup>3</sup>) or preventing another person from complying, and assaults or threats to IFCOs or those assisting them – these will be referred for prosecution
- offences under an EU recovery plan which attract automatic licence suspension when no further penalty will apply

- certain illegal, unregulated and unreported (IUU) offences pertaining to the operation and engagement of IUU listed vessels.
- 9. Written warnings and simple cautions<sup>4</sup> may still be issued, however please note that a written warning, simple caution or a financial administrative penalty may not always be issued for a first or subsequent offence where the authorities believe that the offending is of such a nature that court proceedings are more appropriate.
- 10. Repeat offending may result in increased penalties or automatic referral for prosecution.
- 11. Guidance on the North Western IFCA's enforcement policy can be obtained on the website or by contacting the IFCA (see Appendix 1).

Detection and investigation

- 12. Investigations into suspected fisheries offences will be undertaken by IFCOs in accordance with the IFCA's Compliance and Enforcement Strategy.
- 13. Within six weeks of finalising the investigation a decision will be made regarding action to be taken for the offences detected, at which time you will be notified of the decision in writing.
- 14. An administrative penalty may be issued by the IFCA for the relevant EU, national<sup>5</sup>, byelaw offences listed in Appendix 2 for which the IFCA has jurisdiction. All penalty notices issued by an IFCA will be authorised by the IFCA Head of Service.

Consideration of an administrative penalty

15. Where there is evidence which gives an authorised officer reason to believe that a penalty offence has been committed, the facts of the case will be assessed against the following criteria for the purpose of deciding whether an administrative penalty is appropriate:

- The severity of the infringement: how serious the offence is including, where appropriate, environmental impact.
- Previous infringement history including what action was taken as a result of any previous infringements.
- Other offences detected at the same time as the offence in question and the nature of these offences – these may add to the seriousness of the overall infringement.
- Value of catch: this may affect the decision if the potential financial gain of the offence exceeds the proposed penalty. The value of the illegal catch will be determined wherever possible by the previous week's average prices at the most appropriate market. This can include markets outside the UK if, for example, the

- vessel concerned routinely lands abroad. Data from statutory returns may be provided by the MMO for the calculation of the value of catch.
- Volume of catch: This is particularly relevant to by-catch offences but may also factor in other offences where the volume of illegal catch is significant.
- Whether the species involved is subject to stock recovery measures.

16. Where a single investigation results in the discovery of more than one offence then the offences will be broken down, categorised and given individual penalties to a maximum combined value of £10,000. The North Western IFCA may at its discretion decide not to offer a penalty notice but refer the matter for prosecution.

Determining level of penalty

17. There are four basic levels of administrative penalty depending on the nature of the offence committed and where it is deemed appropriate for a financial administrative penalty (FAP) to be offered. These range from £250 to £2,000 as set out in the first column of the table below.

Table 1: Penalty levels

	First offence	Second offence	Further offences
Level 1	£250	£500	Referred for prosecution
Level 2	£500	£1,000	Referred for prosecution
Level 3	£1,000	£2,000	Referred for prosecution
Level 4	£2,000	£4,000	Referred for prosecution

18. All penalty offences have been categorised (see Appendix 2). Each category of offence has been rated according to the seriousness of the breach in question to determine the basic penalty level. These levels also take into account historical analysis of court penalties while offering an incentive for you to opt against referral for prosecution.

Offence categories and penalty levels

Category	Penalty	First	Second	Further
	level	offence	offence	offences
1 Marketing offences	1	£250	£500
2 Miscellaneous	2	£500	£1,000
3 Technical conservation (Gear)	3	£1,000	£2,000
4 Technical conservation (Catch)	3	£1,000	£2,000
5 Recovery offences	3	£1,000	£2,000
6 Control offences	3	£1,000	£2,000
(including Registered Buyers and Sellers and UK licence offences)				Referred for
7 Access	4	£2,000	£4,000	prosecution
8 Illegal, unregulated and unreported	4	£2,000	£4,000	prosecution
fishing offences
9 Undersize fish offences (UK, EU,	2	£500	£1,000
byelaw)
10 IFCA access offences	3	£1,000	£2,000
11 IFCA technical conservation (catch)	2	£500	£1,000
12 IFCA technical conservation (gear)	2	£500	£1,000
13 IFCA permit	1	£250	£500

These penalties may be subject to adjustment in accordance with paragraphs 20 and 22.

- 20. Where the identified financial gain (connected to or resulting from the offence) is greater than the proposed level of penalty, the penalty offered will be increased by multiples of the relevant basic penalty level (£250, £500, £1,000 or £2,000) until the value of the penalty is greater than that of the identified financial gain.
- 21. This could include where appropriate, offering a penalty of up to £10,000. If the financial gain is greater than £10,000, or the financial gain in relation to the offence is deemed to be of a serious nature, a FAP will not be offered and the offence will be referred to court.
- 22. Where multiple offences are detected, the identified financial gain will only be considered once in relation to the penalty offences. Where the financial gain has already been considered in the calculation of a penalty, the remaining penalty offences will be offered at the relevant basic penalty level in accordance with paragraph 17. As stated in paragraph 16, multiple penalty notices may be issued to a total combined value of £10,000.
- 23. The financial administrative penalty will be increased to the next level available if the person offered the penalty has received a penalty for the same category of offence in the previous two years. This could include, in the case of a second offence attracting a level 4 penalty, offering a basic penalty of £4,000 which may be increased to a maximum of £10,000 to cover the identified financial gain.

Emergency byelaws

24. Where an emergency byelaw is in force, the penalties for offences created by such a byelaw will be in accordance with existing penalties for similar byelaws in Appendix 2.

Penalty notices

- 25. Once a decision has been made that an administrative penalty should be offered, a penalty notice will be issued by the IFCA to those deemed liable for the penalty offence. This will detail the circumstances of the offence and the level of the penalty being offered. Notices will be hand-delivered or sent by post, and will state how payments should be made if the offer of a penalty is accepted.
- 26. A penalty notice can be withdrawn before or after the payment of the penalty if it is issued in error, if it contains technical errors or is issued to the wrong person. Where a penalty notice is withdrawn, any monies paid will be repaid in full, but in appropriate circumstances a new penalty notice may be issued.

Payment of the penalty

- 27. All penalties must be paid within 28 days of issue of the penalty notice.
- 28. In accordance with the relevant regulations, liability for an administrative penalty lies with the master, owner, charterer, operator, representative and/or legally liable person. We will accept payment of the penalty by any one person as counting as payment for all others who are liable.
- 29. For example, where a fishing vessel master and owner are found to be legally responsible for a penalty offence and have both been issued with a £1,000 penalty notice for which they are jointly and severally liable, the IFCA will not expect the master and owner each to pay £1,000. Instead, if the owner pays the £1,000, the notice issued to the master will be treated as having been paid.
- 30. Once payment has been received from a legally liable person in respect of a joint offence, a written notification ("notice of deemed payment") will be sent to the other legally liable person(s) stating that payment has been received in respect of the penalty offence(s), and indicating that their penalty is being treated as having been paid.

Objection to payment of the penalty

- 31. As payment of the penalty may have consequences for all the persons to whom it was issued, measures have been put in place to allow any of those persons jointly and severally liable to contest the process. A written notice of objection must be sent by post or delivered by hand within 28 days of the penalty notice being issued, or within five days of the notice of deemed payment being given if the person(s) are opposed to their penalty being treated as having been paid.
- 32. Where this happens, your penalty will not be treated as having been paid, with the result that, if the penalty remains unpaid at the end of the 28 day period, the case will be referred for prosecution in the usual way. (This will not affect those who have actually paid, or who do not object to having their penalty notice treated as having been paid.)

33. Should a prosecution result in conviction, the penalty you have paid will be applied towards any fine imposed by the court and any excess will be repaid to you. Should the court case result in acquittal, the penalty will be repaid to you in full.

Payment of a penalty in relation to non-British registered fishing vessels

- 34. The financial administrative penalty scheme applies to all relevant legally liable persons as stated in paragraph 6, however a penalty will only be offered to a foreign fishing vessel if the penalty is accepted at the time it is offered, or the vessel may be detained to port for prosecution. 28 days will still be permitted for payment of the penalty, however should no payment be made by the end of the 28 day period court proceedings will be issued and, if applicable, the vessel detained to port.
- 35. If, following payment of the penalty, you wish the matter to be referred for prosecution you must give written notice requesting that proceedings be brought. The notice must:
- a) indicate that the person giving the notice wishes proceedings to be brought in relation to the offence(s) to which the penalty notice relates
- b) be given within 28 days, beginning with the date the penalty notice was issued.
- 36. Should a prosecution result in conviction, the penalty you have paid will be applied towards any fine imposed by the court and any excess will be repaid to you. Should the court case result in acquittal, the penalty will be repaid to you in full.

Central register of penalties

37. Details of all penalties will be held in a central register. If you choose not to pay a penalty and are found not guilty in court, no infringement will be recorded on the database and will not count as a previous offence in any future decisions.

Methods of payment

- 38. Payment in cash is not permitted. Payments must be made either by cheque or by electronic transfer. Please use one of the following payment methods in Appendix 3, quoting the reference number from the penalty notice (which will be in the form "PFVnnnnDE" for example PFV1234DE).
- 39. You must make your payment in time to allow it to be cleared before the end of the 28 day payment period. If paying by cheque you should allow five working days for cheques paid to be cleared.
- 40. Payments in euros must be sufficient to cover the total penalty value after conversion into sterling and relevant bank charges.

Receipt of payment

- 41. You will be issued with a receipt and a record of the penalty notice will be kept. In some circumstances, the fact that you have paid a penalty notice might have evidential value in court proceedings.
- 42. If you do not pay the penalty notice within the 28 day period, the offence will be referred for prosecution.

Amendments to guidance

43. This guidance document will be amended and reviewed as necessary to accommodate changes to legislation relevant to the financial administrative penalty scheme.

Data sharing and the Data Protection Act

44. Information may be shared or input may be sought from other enforcement bodies as may be appropriate, subject to the Data Protection Act.
